Student of the Month February 2010

A year ago he was struggling with school work, trying to get into the groove of high school, now he has developed a focus and is burning through math like he is Hord. Kind & gentle, focused and creative, he is the typical Avanti student who needed a bit of encouragement to get motivated; sometimes you just have to trick students into learning. The Mathematics department proudly nominates Kenny Maxwell for Student of the Month for February 2010.
