William V. Lahmann, Superintendent

Student of the Month November 2007

Brin Smith only arrived at Avanti three months ago but already she has become a valuable asset to the school. She moved through orientation like it was butter. She then began a Geometry Learning Plan around October 1st and completed it during the first month and is well on her way to earning the second part before winter break. During November she complete three chapters, keep in mind that we only had about 8 school days in that time.

During registration she begged me to allow her to work after school organizing the library in my room but I insisted that she focus on her studies and see me later. In the month of November, she started an Independent Learning Plan to organize the books and develop a system that will allow the students at Avanti to find the books that they want. – stay tuned for more from our librarian.
